

Spotted Lanternfly Quarantine Issued

Quarantine Affects Mercer, Warren, & Hunterdon Counties

The NJ Department of Agriculture has issued a quarantine for Mercer, Warren, and Hunterdon Counties to prevent the spread of the Spotted Lanternfly. Under the quarantine, households and businesses that transport certain outdoor articles must obtain and fill out a checklist before moving any of the listed items. In addition to the checklist, businesses that routinely travel in and out of the quarantined counties have training requirements with which they must comply. Items on the list include, but are not limited to:

Trees, shrubs, plants
Tarps

Building materials (brick, block)

Tractors

Trailers
